Dear Mr. Miller:

This year Maclean's is celebrating its sixth annual honor roll of 12 Canadians chosen by our senior editorial board for outstanding accomplishments during the past year in their individual fields of endeavor. The board wishes to cite your distinguished and lasting contributions to post war recovery in the Middle East in the 1991 Honor Roll to be featured in the magazine.

The issue will be available during Christmas week on newsstands, as well as and to our 2.5 million readers across Canada and abroad. I would greatly appreciate your help in arranging an interview and a photo session at mutually convenient times.

It is essential, of course, that the identities of yourself and the other 11 people involved remain strictly confidential until the magazine is published.

With kind regards,

Kevin Doyle
Editor
